Another Black Shot at Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A young Memphis black man has been shot and killed by police only a few hours after black leaders protested the police shootings of three other black youths here within eight days.

Police Chief Bill Price identified Tuesday night's victim as Raymond Stewart, 22. He said Stewart was shot once in the chest by officer L. S. Reeves, who was relieved of duty pending investigation.

Price said officers were called to check a burglary report and flushed two men from a grocery store. One man, who Price said was carrying a shotgun or rifle, escaped. Price said the second man ran, then stopped, turned, and told officers he had a gun. That is when the shooting took place, Price said.

At a City Council meeting earlier Tuesday several black leaders rose to protest the other recent police shootings, all of which involved separate alleged law violations.

Eddie Hugh Madison, 14, and Fred Lee Berry, 16, were killed and Ricky Vaulx, 15, was wounded. Police said the youths were shot while fleeing from officers.

At the council meeting the Rev. Ezekiel Bell, local president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, demanded that "senseless and ruthless killings of blacks be stopped."

Last Thursday, the day Vaulx was shot, Price said he was studying possible changes in police policy on the use of firearms.

Mayor Wyeth Chandler also said that such a study would be made and Price reportedly was considering a plan under which an officer could use his gun only to protect his life or that of a citizen.

Bell, at the council meeting Tuesday night called for more black officers on the police force, and for assignment of what he termed more competent officers to black sections of the city.

DESIGNED FOR SPACE, but it will never leave the launching pad. A full-sized dummy spacecraft—dubbed the Spacecraft Verification Vehicle—is a new feature at Florida's Kennedy Space Center. Once used to train launch crews for the Apollo 4, 6 and 8 moon missions, it is now open to the public at the Kennedy visitor information center.

Fishing Boat Seizure Now at a Stalemate

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Two Soviet fishing vessels seized on charges of violating U.S. territorial waters are refusing to be taken to port and remain stalemated in the northern Bering Sea with a Coast Guard icebreaker.

The Lamut, a factory ship that abandoned an escape attempt as the Coast Guard was ready to shoot across its bow Tuesday, and the sterntrawler Kolyvan have balked at going beyond St. Matthew Island, some 200 miles off the western coast of Alaska.

Armed boarding parties from the icebreaker Storiz are aboard the Russian vessels and both the skipper of one vessel and the fisheries director of the Soviet fleet are being held under arrest aboard the Storiz, Coast Guard officials said at Juneau.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the Storiz had been unable "to convey the subtleties of its conversations with the Russians."

The Coast Guard said it knew of no reason for the refusal of the Soviet ships to sail under escort to the U.S. Naval Station at Adak in the Aleutians, 600 miles to the south.

The Storiz, an armed 230-foot craft with 77 crew members, is being aided by shifts of land-based patrol planes that continue surveillance over the scene, the Coast Guard said, and a buoy tender was expected to join the Storiz by midday today.

The 362-foot Lamut, flagship of an 80-vessel Russian fishing fleet near the area, and the 278-foot Kolyvan were seized Monday night about 9 1/2 miles off the coast of uninhabited St. Matthew Island, the Coast Guard said, and were charged with violating the U.S. 12-mile contiguous fishing zone.

Shortly after the seizure, the Lamut broke and ran through the ice-choked waters of the Bering Sea. It was maneuvered into the ice by the Storiz only after the U.S. ship warned it was ready to open fire. The Storiz had authorization from Washington to fire a warning shot across the bow and came "about as close as you can get," the Coast Guard said.

Lewis Raised $8.3 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — The Muscular Dystrophy Association of America says it received $8.3 million as a result of the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon on Labor Day.

Robert Ross, association executive director, said Tuesday the final tally exceeded pledges made during the telethon by nearly $260,000.

Fire Guts 5 Buildings

ENGLAND, Ark. (AP)—Fire destroyed five businesses and damaged several others Tuesday night and early today in downtown England. All of the firms were located in a half-block area.

Police said Adams Cleaners, Morris-Gann Insurance, Good's Cotton Office, Lucas Furniture Store and a Sterling Store warehouse were destroyed in the blaze. At least four other firms were damaged.

Fire Department officials speculated the blaze started in or near the cotton buyer's office but the cause was not known.

Fierce Air Battle, Enemy MIG Down

Enemy Rolling in Laos

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elements of two North Vietnamese army divisions are reported moving southward through Laos toward an area from which the enemy is expected to spring some kind of offensive next month.

Pentagon sources say there are indications that North Vietnamese soldiers are being sent from divisions normally deployed above the demilitarized zone to reinforce enemy troops already in position to threaten the South Vietnamese Central Highlands.

Because of the difficulty in trying to count men infiltrating in small groups, U.S. officials have no reliable estimate of the numbers involved in the movement.

Top officials tend to discourage the idea that the North Vietnamese will attempt any big-scale ground offensive.

They suggest, instead, that the North Vietnamese may hit with concentrated strength at certain specific positions held by the South Vietnamese army, such as firebases. Or they may even thrust at the highland cities of Kontum and Pleiku.

Analysts expect the main military-political objective of such attacks will be to defeat the South Vietnamese troops, shake their confidence and demonstrate that President Nixon's Vietnamization program has not worked.

Also, it is said, the North Vietnamese might hope to embarrass Nixon ahead of or during his February trip to confer with Communist Chinese leaders in Peking.

Although they foresee some enemy rocket, mortar and commando-style attacks on U.S. bases and positions, Pentagon authorities discount the likelihood of any major infantry assaults on American troops.

Such major enemy assaults would invite U.S. retaliation with bombing strikes against North Vietnam, officials say.

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Navy Phantom jet shot down a swift MIG21 jet deep inside North Vietnam today, the U.S. Command said.

It was the third encounter between MIGs and U.S. jets in the past five days of intensified aerial warfare. In the two previous engagements, MIGs and U.S. jets fired missiles at each other but missed.

The MIGs have been trying to hamper American air blows at the Ho Chi Minh supply trail in Laos. U.S. air strikes are designed to check the flow of supplies believed intended for a new enemy offensive in South Vietnam.

Previously, the MIGs had tried to avoid American planes. As an example, the last MIG shot down was on May 28, 1970.

During today's engagement, at least three American planes were fired on by eight surface-to-air missiles and antiaircraft

Nixon Will Fire Both Barrels

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, facing a Democratic-controlled Congress in this election year, has invented a new State of the Union formula: Hit 'em with both barrels.

For the first time, Nixon has decided to report twice this year on his plans for dealing with the multiple and mounting problems of the 50 states:

—First, he will make an in-person State of the Union address to a Senate-House session at 12:30 p.m. Thursday. The best administration guess is that he will talk about 30 minutes to Congress and a nationwide television-radio audience.

—Second, he will place on each congressman's desk a written State of the Union message, far exceeding in volume anything he could attempt to read in person. White House sources say it will be a bulky document.

Using this one-two formula, Nixon hopes to capture the live TV-radio audience plus reruns on the widely watched evening TV news programs and, at the same time, leave plenty of fodder for reporters writing for newspapers and weekly magazines.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press secretary, said the chief executive "wanted to include a good bit of detail" in the traditional January launching-pad message that could not be encompassed in a speech to Congress.

The press secretary perhaps hinted at an added reason for the more lengthy message when, referring to the agenda of the opposition-controlled Congress, he said, "It was felt that there is a good deal of unfinished business."

In this connection, he added that Nixon "wanted to go into detail."

The two-stage stage of the State of the Union message could be a reply to some critics who contend presidents have delivered vaguely phrased addresses without ever coming to grips with details.

Then, most often, there has followed a succession of special messages spotlighting the chief executive's proposed remedies for particular problems.

Limitation Dismays Scientists

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Some members of the space agency science team are dismayed that scientist-astronauts were limited to three of the nine crew berths for Skylab, an orbiting laboratory designed to study the earth with special sensors and the sun with telescopes.

The first three-man crew is scheduled to spend 28 days aboard the Skylab mission starting next May, and the second two crews are to be aboard 56 days each.

Two pilot-astronauts with little academic background and a physician-astronaut make up the first crew. Each of the remaining two has an astronaut with a doctorate in engineering and two pilot-astronauts.

"If this is a selection which doesn't try to get people of true scientific training on the mission, then we're in trouble," said one scientist who had contributed heavily to the Apollo moon-landing program.

The scientist, like five others who commented unfavorably about the selection, declined to give his name for print because of a close association with the space program.

A flight surgeon said more physicians should have been chosen. Much of the Skylab program is designed to learn about the effects of long-term space travel on the human body, he said, and subtle changes not obvious to the layman could be overlooked by an astronaut without medical training.

He also said a relatively minor illness that could be cured by a doctor on board might lead to a premature end for a mission.

An astronaut who defended the selections said they were "extremely difficult" because the piloting skill of the crewmen must balance with their potential science contribution.

"If you have a slipup in getting up and getting down in and out of space," he said, "then you've blown all your science." But another astronaut said some scientist-astronauts are "as skillful at piloting as any of the best test pilots and in some cases they are the ones not going."

All Around Town

Dr. David W. Mullins, president of the University of Arkansas, will head a group of University officials who will report on activities and programs about the University in a meeting here January 28 at 2 p.m. at the Town & Country Restaurant. Questions and comments will be invited by the group.

Navy Airman James S. Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd of Rt. 2, and husband of Mrs. Mamie A. Boyd of 711 West Second Street, Stamps, Ark. has reported for duty aboard the aircraft carrier USS Lexington homeported at Pensacola, Fla. He is a 1969 graduate of Stamps High School.

The annual Christmas Seal Drive in Hempstead County showed total received as of January 14, 1972 was $1,941.65.

Margaret Turner, a senior at Blevins High School, has been awarded a full tuition and fee scholarship at Arkansas Polytechnic College. The scholarship is automatically renewable as long as the student maintains a "B" average and has a potential value of $1,600. She won the scholarship as a semifinalist in the National Merit Achievement program.

According to a report from the U.S. Corps of Engineers, Tulsa, some 36 million persons visited lakes in the district last year, up 57 per cent in only five years. The report shows that Millwood Reservoir in this area had 2,773,490 visitors during the year.

Dr. Alfred B. Bonds Jr., 1935 graduate of Henderson State College and former State Superintendent of Schools in Arkansas, was honored recently by the Board of Trustees at Baldwin-Wallace College in Ohio by naming a new administration building after him. The special action was in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Bonds' 10th year at Berea College where he serves as President of the institution. As a special surprise the Board flew his mother from Prescott, Ark. for the event.

Hempstead on Disaster List

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers Tuesday asked President Nixon to declare 25 Arkansas counties a disaster area because of damage caused by heavy rain and high wind during the period of Dec. 9-17, 1971.

A declaration by the president would provide funds for restoration of county roads, streets and bridges and make available federal assistance to individuals who suffered losses. Bumpers said the estimate of damage was $1.2 million to public property and $2.2 million to private property.

The counties are Baxter, Boone, Carroll, Conway, Crawford, Franklin, Fulton, Hempstead, Howard, Izard, Johnson, Little River, Logan, Madison, Marion, Miller, Montgomery, Newton, Perry, Polk, Scott, Sebastian, Sevier, Stone and Yell.

Approval of $2.7 Billion Foreign Aid Bill Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House postponed final action on a $2.7-billion foreign aid bill today and a key leader said he does not want to act on President Nixon's foreign aid overhaul plan until after the November elections.

"We could have a new president then," said House Foreign Affairs Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., "and he might want something different."

Mills Out in Florida

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Florida Democrats will have 10 candidates to choose from when they go to the polls March 14 to name their preference for the party's presidential nomination.

The state candidates selection board kept Gov. George Wallace of Alabama on the ballot despite "grave reservations" expressed by the state party chairman, retained Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles against the candidate's wishes and rejected Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas.

State Democratic Chairman Jon Moyle said he assumed Wallace would participate "in good faith and not play games with Florida Democrats."

Despite his personal reservations, Moyle said, he assumed Wallace delegates would pledge not to oppose the nominee of the National Democratic Convention. The loyalty oath apparently would prevent Wallace from naming American Independent party regulars as Florida delegates to the national convention.

Yorty, who is campaigning in the New Hampshire primary, asked that his name be removed from the Florida ballot, but Democrats on the committee voted 2 to 1 that he is a presidential contender and therefore should be listed.

Moyle insisted that Mills is not a candidate and therefore should not have his name on the primary list, although he often has been mentioned as a possible contender.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, who signed an affidavit saying he is not a candidate, also had his name removed.

Those whose names were placed on the Democratic ballot are: Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York, Sens. Vance Hartke of Indiana, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Henry M. Jackson of Washington, Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, Sens. George McGovern of South Dakota and Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Wallace and Yorty.

On the Republican ballot are President Nixon and Reps. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio and Paul N. McCloskey Jr. of California.

U.S. Hopes to Tie Up New Major Trade Deals

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration hopes to tie the knot on major new trade deals and send its dollar-devaluation bill to Congress by early February, a high Treasury official says.

The trade package and the dollar-devaluation measure go hand in hand, Paul Volcker, undersecretary for monetary affairs, told newsmen Tuesday. He said he sees no difficulties in trade negotiations.

"The trade package is going to be wrapped up, I feel quite sure," he said. "I think we can make it by that date (early February). I think it's in everybody's interest."

Volcker, an architect of President Nixon's international economic policy, held a rare on-the-record news conference, the first since he was instrumental in the international monetary settlement reached last Dec. 18. He declined to be specific on negotiations with the nation's major trading partners. As part of the deal to devalue the dollar, the United States has insisted that Japan, Canada and the Common Market countries agree to some trading concessions.

Volcker said he sees no trouble with the dollar-devaluation bill, predicting that Congress "will deal with this legislation expeditiously." Technically, the dollar would be devalued by raising the price of gold from $35 to $38 an ounce. In foreign exchange markets, that amounts to a devaluation of 7.89 per cent.

On other topics, the undersecretary said:

—The Nixon administration will roll up a "very substantial deficit" in fiscal 1972, and the 1973 budget due to go to Congress next Monday will be deeply in the red. But Volcker said both deficits are justified under current slack economic conditions. Other sources said the budget deficit for fiscal 1972 may reach almost $40 billion, the biggest in 27 years.

He does not expect the monetary agreement, in which a new system of currency exchange rates was immediately put into effect, will become un-

—The impact of the agreement, which makes imports more expensive and U.S. exports to other countries cheaper, may be slow in coming where the big U.S. balance-of-trade deficit is concerned. The first impact on the trade balance may be adverse, he said, since the demand for higher-priced imports may continue at a high level through the early part of 1972.

Water Scheme Harebrained

CHICAGO (AP) — An alleged plot to poison city water supplies was a "harebrained scheme" that could not have worked, says James J. Jardine, Chicago water and sewage commissioner.

Two men, both city college students, were charged Tuesday with conspiracy to commit murder by introducing typhoid germs into the Chicago's supply of drinking water.

Jardine said any attempt to poison the water supply was bound to fail. Chlorine added continuously to the one billion gallons of water pumped daily to Chicago would have destroyed the typhoid bacteria, he said. Security police also guard the two water filtration plants around the clock.

Held in Cook County jail today on $250,000 bond each were Steve Pera, 18, a former hospital worker from Evanston, Ill., and Allan Schwander, 19, of Chicago.

Chicago police arrested the men at midnight Monday in Schwander's North Side apartment.

guns, the U.S. Command reported.

The command had no word immediately if the planes were from the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise, which earlier in the day returned to its battle station in the Gulf of Tonkin.

One of the planes suffered minor damage but all U.S. aircraft returned safely to their carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin, the command said.

A command spokesman, Maj. Robert O'Brien, reported the action was triggered when eight Soviet-built SAM missiles plus anti-aircraft artillery were fired at an unarmed Navy RA5 reconnaissance jet and its fighter escort near Quan Lang airfield.

This is about 170 miles north of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Vietnam, and 155 miles south of Hanoi.

Two fighters returned the fire, and one of them, an A7 sustained minor damage O'Brien said.

Four minutes later, a Navy F4 phantom engaged and shot down a MIG21 with air missiles.

It was the first MIG shot down in 20 months. The MIGs have been showing up more frequently during the intense U.S. air campaign against North Vietnam's Ho Chi Minh supply trail in Laos.

Only Monday MIGs fired missiles at two Phantoms 270 miles north of the demilitarized zone, then fled when the missiles missed.

There was no immediate indication whether any of the planes involved were from the world's largest warship, the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise, which only today returned to the Gulf of Tonkin. Its 75 planes joined in the campaign against the Ho Chi Minh trail.

President Nixon ordered the 95,000-ton carrier into the Indian Ocean last month for a show of strength in support of Pakistan during the India-Pakistan war. She sailed with a task force from the Tonkin Gulf Dec. 9, started back to Vietnam on Jan. 10 and en route stopped in the Philippines to give her crew shore leave.

The Enterprise joined the 75,000-ton carrier Constellation on Yankee Station off the Vietnamese coast, bringing the strike force back to its normal strength of two carriers. A third carrier, the Coral Sea, left the gulf several days ago for an upkeep period in port that had been postponed while the Enterprise was away.

Milam Quits Finance Position

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Max Milam, director of the Department of Finance and Administration, has resigned effective March 1.

Milam, a key state official under two governors, said that while he had planned to return to a teaching position at the University of Arkansas on completion of his tenure with the state, he will now accept "another career opportunity." He did not specify what job he would take. The Arkansas Gazette reported Milam would be employed by former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

Milam had taken a leave of absence from his position as chairman of the Department of Political Science at the university to accept appointment by Rockefeller in August 1969 to head what was then the state Administration Department.

J.W. ROWE

On a program arranged by Kiwanian Herbert Burns, J.W. Rowe, President, and B.N. Holt, Executive Secretary of the Hope-Hempstead County Chamber of Commerce, presented the Kiwanis program at their meeting on Tuesday.

Mr. Rowe stated that the Chamber of Commerce was made up of the very best citizens of Hempstead County but that it is not a select or exclusive group. Its membership is open to any citizen interested in the growth and progress of our area. Two vital needs of the Hope-Hempstead Chamber of Commerce are more members and support of the citizenship of the community served by the organization.

President Rowe reviewed some of the projects proposed three or more years ago, some of which have come to fruition and some of which are now in progress.

Some of the present goals of the Chamber of Commerce are putting the Educational System on a sound financial basis; following through on the Industrial Expansion, making the newcomers feel at home; showing more appreciation for present industries; following through on securing an adequate water supply for future needs; studying and improving on the problems existing in Traffic and Transportation; being sure that we don't take our Agricultural Industry for granted; and promoting a stable business community.

B.N. Holt followed Mr. Rowe on the program. He has acquired an old book of minutes from which he read concerning the predecessor of Hope-Hempstead County Chamber of Commerce, an organization known at The Hope Progressive League started in February of 1910.

In the minutes of the February 21st, 1910 meeting it is revealed that the League was in contact

Arrested at Mexican Border

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The FBI said here Tuesday night that Wesley Miller, 25, of Jonesboro was arrested Sunday night as he crossed the Mexican border into Texas with 240 pounds of marijuana in the trunk of his car.

Miller, who is being held in the Webb County Jail at Laredo, failed to appear in Circuit Court at Jonesboro last April 26 to answer charges of possession and sale of drugs.

A $15,000 bond was forfeited and attempts by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller of Jonesboro and Little Rock, to have the bond reduced failed.

School Taxing Involves 454,000, $200 Million

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas public education financing system, challenged in a federal district court suit filed Monday, involves more than $200 million annually for 454,000 children.

If the suit follows the pattern of similar actions in other states, the issue will be whether there is a compelling state interest to justify wide variations in per pupil expenditures.

According to a Legislative Council report, the outer extremes in per pupil expenditure in Arkansas are $295 in the Gosnell District and $1,090 in the Carthage District.

An isolated instance of such extremes might not persuade the court to order Arkansas to find a more equitable financing system, but others might, and others exist.

Last Friday, at a meeting of the council's Education Committee, Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, said he had concluded that Arkansas' system would fail to satisfy the courts if challenged.

The suit was filed by Bobby K. Hayes of Calico Rock, a volatile little fellow who was a 1968 candidate for the U.S. Senate. Like successful suits in Minnesota, California and Texas, Hayes' suit contends that the Arkansas school finance system denies poor school districts equal protection under law.

Such protection is guaranteed to everyone by the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Arkansas schools are financed chiefly from two sources: (1) the state government level which disburses aid through the Minimum Foundation Program; (2) the local school district government level, which collects funds through the ad valorem or property tax.

In the current school year, the MFP funding is expected to total $100,318,739. Property tax revenue is expected to total $104,764,522.

Amendment 40 to the Arkansas Constitution, adopted in 1948, authorized each school district, with voter approval, to levy a rate of tax to support the schools.

Today, the rates vary from 18 mills in the Fourche Valley District in Yell County to 66 mills in the East Side District in Conway County.

Hayes' suit compared the Calico Rock District with the adjacent Mountain Home District as an example of the denial of equal protection. It said the 1970-71 property tax collections amounted to $142 per pupil in the Calico Rock District where the tax was 52 mills and the same tax for the same year in the Mountain Home District amounted to $157 per pupil at a rate six mills lower.

At root the problem results from differences in the value of property in each district. In Fourche Valley, for example, the 18-mill tax produces $132 per pupil, but in East Side, where the tax is almost four times as high, the revenue amounts to only $5 per pupil more.

The result of these and similar variables is a wide disparity in the amounts the property tax produces from one school district to another. The state distributes MFP aid under a formula designed to partially offset the imbalance in the value of property in the districts, but it does not completely succeed.

A Legislative Council report shows that one Arkansas district has a per pupil expenditure of local and state aid combined of less than $300, 39 have from $300 to $400, 161 have from $400 to $500, 109 have $500-$600, 24 have $600-$700, five have $700-$800, six have $800-$900, one has $900-$1,000 and three have more than $1,000 per pupil.

The state average, the council said, was $236 in property tax money and $244 in state aid per pupil for a total average expenditure of $480 in 1970.

A prize example of how the value of local property affects the amount of revenue available per pupil: Belleville has a rate of 30 mills producing $70 per pupil, but Carden Bottom, also at 30 mills, gets $318 per pupil. Both are in Yell County.

State aid under the MFP program raised the total per pupil expenditure in the Belleville District to $358. Carden Bottom's figure was raised to $705.

Some districts are so wealthy that they could do well without any state aid. The Magnet Cove District in Hot Spring County, with a tax rate of 34 mills, produces $923 per pupil from the property levy.

Others are so poor that only state aid keeps them afloat. The Deer District in Newton County, despite a tax rate of 60 mills, produced on $61 per pupil locally in 1970. State aid raised the total expenditure to $406 per pupil.

In ruling that property tax-based systems in three states were unconstitutional, courts said that the number of dollars per pupil spent in the school districts could not be a function of wealth unless it was based on the wealth of the state as a whole.

Helen Bottel Helen Help Us!

THE FAMILY CLAIRVOYANT

Dear Helen:
My husband uses an excuse for not going out, going on a vacation, going ANYWHERE, the fact that we might get robbed, and he points to all the news stories in the papers to prove it. This has been going on for 25 years.

Well, after he said it at least 500 times, we finally did get robbed when we went away for a weekend.

So now he says, "I told you so!" I point out that we've been away from home 500 times and got robbed once, which doesn't exactly make him a prophet. But he won't budge from the house from now on.

What can I do? —BETTING ON THE ODDS

Dear BOTO:
Your husband is like the hypochondriac who had engraved on his tombstone, "See—I TOLD you I was sick!"

Why don't you buy him a burglar alarm system for his birthday? —H.

(Which reminds me of a story I did last year about my burglar-conscious husband, Bob.

Inasmuch as I'm still recuperating from surgery (says the doctor), I'll print it in the Friday Column. After all, I owe Bob one for the article he published on "What is a Wife?" Which riled up Women's Libists considerably. —H.)

Dear Helen:
I have a great wife, but like lots of men I wondered what freedom would be like. So we had an agreement. I'd move out for six months, get my head back together, learn whether bachelorhood was what I really wanted, while she'd stay at the house with the kids.

Well, I learned you don't swing that much as a bachelor. It's a lonely life, after being married to a wonderful girl and having those kids underfoot. Maybe they bothered me, but I sure missed them.

I went back at the end of the fourth month. To find my wife had taken a job and was seeing another man regularly!

She says she thanks me for a lot for giving HER time to think—that it really wasn't a very good marriage and she has decided she and the kids can do better without me. In fact, she has started divorce proceedings, so she can marry this other jerk. Says the kids are crazy about him.

Helen, that wasn't in the agreement! What gets into women anyway, and how can I put some sense into her brainless head? —T.J.

Dear T.:
Sorry, fella. "You calls your shot and you takes your chances." I'd suggest you do the wine, woo and roses routine: heavy on the woo. Maybe she's only trying to teach you a lesson. —H.

Dear Helen:
How dare you stand up for the husband who likes to read girlie-type magazines and go to topless bars! That kind of depraved stuff isn't exactly the same as your metaphorical "not wanting to pick every flower he sees in the park!"

Why didn't you tell her to get a bunch of male nude pictures and start raving about them, also to eye every good-looking man that walks down the street. That would fix him! —FURIOUS AT YOU

Dear Furious:
What's "depraved" for the gander is "depraved" for the

Genetics Clinic Goes on Road To Take Counseling To People

by Dr. Charles J. Epstein
Director, March of Dimes Genetic Counseling Clinic
San Francisco, California

A burst of public interest in genetics has followed the announcement of recent dramatic advances in this relatively young science.

Amniocentesis has made it possible to predict with certainty months before birth that an expected baby will be born with or without certain genetic diseases.

As a result, genetic counseling, a form of applied human genetics, can now give parents hard facts in cases where before it was possible to give only odds.

But one problem is delivery: How do you make genetic counseling available to the people who need it?

Genetic counseling clinics are part of the answer. With support from the March of Dimes we have established a clinic here at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

This genetics clinic is unique because it is the only one in the country—as far as I know—that travels far into outlying areas to carry genetic counseling to the people.

Our routes take us over the Golden Gate Bridge and north to Marin County, across the Oakland Bay Bridge 60 miles west into the San Joaquin Valley, and more than 200 miles south to Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo.

Computing Odds

People from all economic levels, from the wealthy to the poor, come to the clinic. Sometimes they have heard about it in newspapers, but usually they are referred to us by their doctor or a public health nurse.

For many couples who have a history of a genetic disease in their family, any pregnancy they undergo will run a certain risk of producing a child with that disease and we can compute the odds. If we find someone who is a carrier of a chromosome defect that can be transmitted to their offspring — a relatively rare occurrence—then we do a chromosome analysis on everyone in the family. Then all who are carriers will be aware of it.

The majority of couples we see have had a child with a defect and their fears have raised questions: What are our chances of having another child with this same disease? If we have normal children, what will be their chances of having children with this disease?

Fetal Cell Study

For the woman who has had a child with a serious genetic defect—one form of mongolism, for example—and finds herself pregnant again, the anxiety can be overwhelming. Many couples in this position don't believe themselves able to cope with another child with the same defect. It is for them that amniocentesis has particular value.

Between the 12th and 16th week of pregnancy, fetal cells can be withdrawn in the amniotic fluid surrounding the fetus. A study of these cells can determine whether there are chromosome abnormalities and some of the enzyme deficiencies that will produce malformed or mentally retarded children. When these diseases are diagnosed, the parents will need to decide whether to have such a child. When the tests indicate a normal fetus, the relief and joy of the parents promotes a healthy attitude for the duration of the pregnancy.

In nearly all cases, the people we see are happy to get a straight story—good or bad. It takes some of the specula-

Research Effort

When we are not seeing people in our clinic we are continuing our research, supported by the March of Dimes, the federal government and some private agencies. We are looking for the basic chemical differences between normal and chromosomally abnormal cells. Understanding how the metabolism of a defective cell differs from a normal cell should help us understand how chromosome errors cause birth defects.

We are also investigating the very early development of the embryo after fertilization, and the development of sperms and eggs before fertilization—anything that could go wrong and lead to an aberration of birth.

The number of diseases that can be detected before birth will grow in the future. Better ways will be developed for screening for carriers, especially for those genetic diseases that are concentrated in specific population groups, such as sickle cell anemia in the blacks and Tay-Sachs disease in those of Jewish ancestry.

As the medical community becomes more aware of which diseases have a genetic basis, much of the kind of counseling we do in our clinic will be done by the physician at the local level. In the meantime, clinics like ours will fill part of the gap.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The heavy wooden doors to Maryland's historic State House have always opened inward, contrary to state fire regulations, and long an embarrassment to safety-minded legislators.

Now that the doors have been changed to open outward, another problem has arisen. Some visitors are turning away, thinking the doors are locked.

St. Louis Wins 300th for Coach

By BERT ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. Louis University had just squeaked past Bradley 64-59 in overtime, and Billikens' Coach Bob Polk stood at mid-court holding a sterling silver tray with a huge "300" engraved in the center.

The award was presented Tuesday night by Ray Gerritzen, president of the Billikens Tipoff Club, and symbolized Polk's 300th career victory—a rare achievement for a college basketball coach.

The 55-year-old Polk, a native of Tell City, Ind., reached the coveted 300 figure in his 20th season of coaching. His first 13 years were at Vanderbilt, where he compiled a 197-106 record. Then, he worked four years at Trinity, Tex., winning 69 games and losing only 28, before transferring to St. Louis in 1969.

The 300th victory, which boosted St. Louis' season record to 8-2 over-all, 2-1 in the Missouri Valley Conference, was one of Polk's toughest.

The Billikens raced to a 29-19 lead in the first half, still led 55-51 with 6:21 remaining, but failed to score during the remainder of regulation time and were forced into overtime.

But they pulled away in the final minute and a half of the extra period. Jesse Leonard's foul shot broke a 57-57 tie, Carlos Martinez hit a field goal and Harry Rogers and Rich Stallworth each converted two free throws.

In another MVC game, Larry Finch's 28 points helped Memphis State beat Drake 81-70.

In the Big Ten Conference, Minnesota, ranked 17th nationally, downed Wisconsin 65-59 for its fourth league victory without a loss and its ninth in 112 games. The Gophers Keith Young collected 27 points.

Northwestern snapped a seven-game losing streak, defeating Michigan State 76-69 in overtime with Mark Sibley leading the way with 32 points, six in the extra period.

Elsewhere, Vanderbilt connected on 16 straight field goal attempts in the second half and overwhelmed Cornell 101-80; sophomore Billy Raynor fired in 35 points, including 15 consecutive free throws, as Dartmouth whipped Harvard 94-66; Tracy Tripucka's 29 points and Walt Kobucinski's 27 helped Lafayette upset West Virginia 87-83, and John Falconi and John Pecorack each tallied 18 points, leading Davidson to a 75-57 victory over Virginia Military.

Also, Duquesne, behind Mike Barr's 20 points, ran its record to 10-1, whipping Steubenville 72-54; St. Joseph's, Pa., won its 14th straight Middle Atlantic Conference University Division game over three seasons, trouncing Drexel 87-64; Al Skinner's 18 points paced Massachusetts to a 71-49 romp over Vermont, and Colorado State University beat Denver for the 10th consecutive time over five seasons 47-45 on George Price's field goal with two seconds left.

Tomahawk name for the yearbook and the Ma-le Day festival in May, named for an Indian holiday.

The Florida State Seminoles switched last year from a Sammy Seminole caricature to a proud warrior image. But the new symbol, with breechcloth, tomahawk and war paint, bears little resemblance to real Seminoles, who wore flowing, robe-like garments.

Last year, the Marquette Warriors dropped their Willie Wampum mascot, a student in Indian gear who waved a tomahawk at Marquette's opponents during time outs.

The Stanford Indians changed their symbol before the 1970 football season after a campus group that included Indians complained about the old character, a little round-nosed fellow with a slight pot-belly. The new figure is a handsome chief in profile, complete with headdress.

Obviously, Nebraska-Omaha, Florida State, Marquette and Stanford are nothing more than Indian-givers.

year-old half-Chippewa, half-Ojibwa.

"It figures," Means said. "All the Chippewas used to do was hang around the fort anyway."

That crack might not sit too well with Central Michigan University, whose nickname is the Chippewas.

"Our emblem is the facial picture of an Indian, but it's very manly," says Daniel P. Rose, the school's athletic director.

Central Michigan also had a student who dresses as an Indian and does tribal dances during games. A member of an Indian community several miles from the campus teaches the student the dances and "we've had no trouble at all," says Rose.

But the University of Nebraska at Omaha changed its nickname from Indians to Mavericks last May after receiving complaints from an Indian group. New names also were needed for the girls' drill team, the Indians; the Quambi Room of the student center; the

Briefs About Olympics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — Sex checks started Tuesday for women athletes taking part in the Feb. 3-13 Sapporo Winter Olympics.

Fourteen Japanese participants were the first to be checked out at the Olympic Village in this northern Japanese city.

A new hotel will be opened in Sapporo this week to accommodate the VIP's attending the Winter Olympic Games.

Already fully reserved, it will house heads of national Olympic committees, leaders of athletic federations and other high ranking officials.

Hokkaido's major bank, which has opened an office in the Sapporo Olympic Village, issued a circular to its female employees telling "how to keep the wolves at bay." Among the words of advice:

—Don't loiter but go straight home after office hours.

—Refuse luncheon dates with foreigners and have lunch with fellow male employees.

—Don't forget to smile when you're working but be sure to keep your wits about you.

The sacred flame for the Sapporo Winter Olympic Games, which was split into two after it was flown to Tokyo Jan. 1 from Okinawa, was united Wednesday at 12:36 p.m., local time, in Aomori, northern Honshu.

One flame had been relayed by runners along the Pacific coast and the other on the Japan sea coast, mostly in snow. One runner, a 14-year-old junior high school student, collapsed

EARLE, Ark. (AP)—Grafton Moore, 26, an assistant at Helena West Helena Central since 1969, has been named head football coach at Earle High School.

Lee Trevino Favorite at Tucson

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Lee Trevino, always a threat and particularly dangerous in this one, was a heavy favorite for the top prize in the richer and renamed $150,000 Dean Martin-Tucson Open golf tournament.

Trevino, the 1972 PGA Player of the Year, usually plays some of his best golf on the 7,305-yard, par 72 Tucson National Golf Club course, site of the 72 hole chase that begins Thursday.

He won two years in a row here, then slipped to 12th last season.

"My mind just wasn't on it," he recalled. "I couldn't concentrate, I couldn't think."

His mother was gravely ill at the time and died later in the year.

Trevino, of course, went on to win six titles later in the season, including that fantastic sweep of the American, Canadian and British Open crowns that stamped him one of the game's top performers.

And he appears to be playing well this season, finishing third behind Jack Nicklaus and Johnny Miller in last week's Bing Crosby National Pro Am.

Entertainer Martin has added his name to this tournament for the first time this year and helped attract a large celebrity field for today's pro-am. Among them are Glen Campbell, Andy Williams, Pat Boone, Dick Martin, Forrest Tucker and astronaut Gene Cernan.

He also helped boost the purse by $40,000 from a year ago and brought the event a national television contract. The final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be telecast by NBC-TV.

Nicklaus, a playoff winner over Miller in the Crosby, is skipping the tournament, however, as are Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper.

In addition to Trevino, other top contenders for the $30,000 first prize are the 24-year-old Miller, Masters champion Charles Coody, big George Archer, England's Tony Jacklin, and defending champion J. C. Snead.

Other standouts in the field of 144 include Frank Beard, making his first start of the year, veteran Gene Littler, and such $100,000 winners from 1971 as Miller Barber, Australian Bruce Crampton and Dave Edelberger.

Hall of Fame List Has Koufax, Yogi

Harding Swim Team Wins

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — Harding College won eight of 13 events to defeat State College of Arkansas 61-45 in a swimming meet here Tuesday.

Fred Finke of Harding won the 1,000-yard freestyle and the 500-yard freestyle events and Bill Morgan of Harding won both the required and optional diving events.

A player must be named on at least 75 per cent of the ballots returned. More than 400 ballots were sent out.

Koufax, the fireballing left-hander, pitched 12 seasons for the Brooklyn and Los Angeles Dodgers and won 165 games and lost 87 before an arthritic arm forced him to retire from the game at the age of 30 in 1966. He now is eligible for the first time under the rule which says that a player must be retired for five seasons before becoming eligible.

Among Koufax' great accomplishments were a record four no-hitters, including a perfect game.

Berra, a former New York Yankee catcher and now a New York Mets coach, fell 28 votes short last year. He had a .285 lifetime batting average and 358 home runs, most by a catcher.

Wynn, a burly right-hander, won 300 games and lost 244 during his 23-year major league career with Washington, Cleveland and the Chicago White Sox. He was two votes behind Berra in last year's balloting.

Kiner, an ex-outfielder with Pittsburgh and Cleveland and now a broadcaster for the Mets, hit 269 homers during his career.

Easter cannot come before March 22 nor after April 25.

Only Jerry West Saved Favored NBA All-Stars

By DAN BERGER

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Eastern All-Stars proved that speed and defense can offset height and strength. Almost.

In the final outcome, though, it was Jerry West's 20-foot jump shot with one second left that provided the West team with its second consecutive National Basketball Association All-Star game victory, 112-110, Tuesday night.

West was named most valuable player of the 22nd annual contest, even though ballots for the honor had been collected in the press box with three minutes to play, when the game was very much in doubt. All agreed, though, that West deserved the honor and it was fitting that he should make the winning shot.

Even so, it was such a balanced game that writers had a hard time determining who would win the MVP award. At one point, it looked like Boston's run-run guard Jo Jo White might earn the honor, then Detroit's Jimmy Walker drew praise, then Connie Hawkins of Phoenix, then Dave Cowens of the Celtics, then Walt Frazier of the New York Knicks and, with only seconds left, veteran Boston forward John Havlicek looked like possible selection.

But it was West, dubbed Mr. Clutch by local writers, who helped the West salvage a game it was picked to win handily. So powerful was the West team's front line that oddsmakers had the East an 11-point underdog at game time.

Seven-foot-two Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Milwaukee's supercenter, started as did 6-8 Spencer Haywood of Phoenix, 6-8

Bob Love of Chicago and West and Gail Goodrich of the host Lakers. Cowens, at 6-foot-9, was the East's tallest player.

But the East used its speed and great quickness to upset the West's game early. Frazier stole numerous passes, reserve White was all over the place, Bill Cunningham of Philadelphia hit a number of outside jump shots and by halftime, the East was ahead by 10, 64-54. The West couldn't get the ball inside and was hurt by lack of speed.

Then Bill Sharman of the Lakers, coaching the West, went to a quicker lineup, sending in Walker, Hawkins and Oscar Robertson with 5:25 left in the third period. Minutes later, in came Wilt Chamberlain of the Lakers and Paul Silas of Phoenix and that combination lit a fire under the West.

Russell's outside shooting helped the West assume a 90-90 lead and then the 6-foot-2 West came off the bench to assure the triumph, eighth in 22 games for the western representative.

His steal of an errant pass and fast-break layup gave the West a nine-point edge.

New York's Dave DeBusschere started the East back with a jump shot, 105-98, then Cowens hit two free throws and Cunningham hit two more and it was 105-102. Robertson was able to hit only one of three free throws and then Havlicek began earning points for the MVP honor.

His 15-foot jump shot from the foul line brought the East to within two points but then West came through again, hitting a 17-footer for a four-point lead. And when Havlicek sank two more jump shots in succession, sandwiched around two Robertson free throws, it set up Cowens' 14-foot jumper with 11 seconds left.

West had 13 points to help lead the West. Hawkins also had 13 including six in the crucial third period. Jabbar had 12, Haywood and Robertson 11 each and Russell and Walker 10 each.

Frazier and Havlicek wound up with 15 each and Cowens and Cunningham scored 14 apiece for the losers, who actually outrebounded the taller West team 66-63.

In fact, so tenacious was the East on the offensive backboard in the first period, in assuming an early 33-27 lead, that 39 shots were attempted, most by one team in one quarter in the history of the game. An East team, ironically led by Chamberlain, attempted 38 in one period 12 years ago.

For the record, the rest of the East scorers: White 12, Jack Marin of Baltimore 11, Archie Clark of Philadelphia and DeBusschere 8 each, Lou Hudson of Atlanta, a starter, 6, Butch Beard of Cleveland 3, Bob Kauffman of Buffalo and Wes Unseld of Baltimore 2 each. John Johnson of Cleveland and Tom Van Arsdale of Cincinnati each played briefly and failed to score.

For the West: Chamberlain and Love 8, starter Gail Goodrich of Los Angeles, Elvin Hayes of Houston and Sidney Wicks of Portland 4 each, Paul Silas of Phoenix and Detroit's Bob Lanier 2 each. Wicks was the only rookie selected to play in the game.

Rondon-Foster Meet March 9

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Knockout artists Vincente Rondon and Bob Foster have agreed to square off for the undisputed world light heavyweight boxing crown March 9 at Miami Beach Convention Hall.

Allied Sports Enterprises President Mel Ziegler announced Tuesday that the managers of the two fighters signed formal contracts for the scheduled 15-round bout.

Foster is recognized as the light heavy champ by the World Boxing Council while Rondon holds the World Boxing Association version of the crown.

Rondon, a Venezuelan with a 37-5-1 record including 23 knockouts, won WBA recognition last Feb. 27 when he flattened Jimmy Dupree in the sixth round. The WBA earlier had taken its crown away from Foster because it claimed he failed to defend it against a worthy opponent late in 1970.

Foster, 44-5 with all losses to heavyweights, is in Albuquerque, N. M., already tuning up for the fight.

Ziegler, in his first major promotion, has guaranteed Foster and Rondon $50,000 each for the meeting with no contract stipulation involving percentage of the gate.

The Red Cross flag, adopted in honor of Switzerland, is the Swiss flag with the colors counterchanged.

Finally Get St. Louis Blues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Boston Bruins, who got nothing but the blues in two previous trips to St. Louis this season, finally got the Blues in St. Louis Tuesday night.
The high-scoring Bruins did it with defense, goalie Jerry Cheevers posting his first shut-out and the team's third in a 2-0 white-washing of the St. Louis Blues.
In the only other National Hockey League action, the California Golden Seals and Minnesota North Stars skated to a 1-1 tie.
The Bruins, who were tied 6-6 and beaten 5-2 in their other St. Louis appearances, got perfect timing from Cheevers and goals from Don Marcotte and Phil Esposito to move four points ahead of the idle New York Rangers in the East Division.
Cheevers extended his personal unbeaten streak to 14 games while St. Louis goalie Jacques Caron has his unbeaten streak snapped after five wins and a tie.
Carol Vadnais' long powerplay goal with 6:40 left in the game enabled California to tie Minnesota, extending the North Stars winless streak to six games. That ruined Gump Worsley's bid for his 43rd career shutout. Danny Grant tallied for Minnesota late in the second period.

Floridians in Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Memphis Pros and New York Nets increased their third-place leads in American Basketball Association play Tuesday night.
The Pros edged the Dallas Chaparrals 96-94 on Charlie Williams' layup with one second left and moved 1 1/2 games ahead of idle Denver in the Western Division.
The Nets, led by Rick Barry and John Baum, pulled away from the Floridians in the final 15 minutes for a 123-102 triumph and took a one-game lead over the losers in the East.
The only other game saw the Philadelphia 76ers trounce the Pittsburgh Condors 130-116.
Williams' game-winning shot gave him 39 points for the night. Donnie Freeman paced the Chaps with 28. Williams hit his big bucket after a Dallas inbound pass went into the backcourt with six seconds left.
Barry led the Nets against the Floridians with 32 points and Baum added 18, including 14 in the final 15 minutes. Barry's free throw with 3:31 remaining in the third period gave the Nets a 72-71 lead and Baum and Ollie Taylor helped build it to 84-77 entering the final quarter.
Mack Calvin paced the losers with 20 points.

Where've You Been?

Linebacker Chuck Hurston was drafted by the Buffalo Bills in 1965 but never played for them before the Kansas City Chiefs picked him up on waivers. When Hurston was acquired by struggling Buffalo from Kansas City this season, a Bills official asked him, "Where have you been? We were expecting you for a scrimmage seven years ago." Hurston had a ready answer: "Oh, I went to the Super Bowl."

Hawg Hanner Natural for Vince Lombardi

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dave "Hawg" Hanner was a natural for Vince Lombardi who wanted his players to compete "with the small hurts."
In his 13 years as an active player with the Green Bay Packers, Hanner played in every regular season game except one. That was in 1963 when he missed a game because of an appendectomy.
Hanner, a star at Arkansas before joining the Packers in 1962, will be inducted into the Arkansas Hall of Fame Friday night at Hot Springs along with Maurice "Footsie" Britt, Boyd Cypert and Charlie McClendon.
Hanner remembers that the Packers were bad in the early 1960s.
"There were jokes on the other clubs to the effect that if a guy messed up something real bad, or didn't hustle, he'd be traded to Green Bay," Hanner said.
Lombardi took over as head coach of the Packers in 1969. The year before Green Bay had won one game.
"We knew he was something different, something special, from the first meeting," Hanner said. "We felt that somehow, this man would make it in spite of everything."
In Lombardi's first year, the Packers were 7-5. The next year they won the division.
"It took him two years, and there weren't that many changes, either," Hanner said. "He was a great organizer. He never did any second-guessing. He stressed family, religion and

Officials Talk With Colts

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The governor of Maryland and the mayor of Baltimore met with owner Carroll Rosenbloom of the Baltimore Colts Tuesday and further talks are scheduled in the future.
But just how the political leaders figure in solving where the Colts will play home games after the 1972 season was not made clear after the initial three-hour closed session.
At a news conference following the meeting, Rosenbloom reiterated his strong objections to playing in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium after 1972 and revived plans to build his own arena.
He said he would object to spending public funds to improve the present stadium or for building a new one, and said he was not after free land.
"I'm not looking for anyone to give me anything," Rosenbloom said. "We held options on land before and we can get options again."
Gov. Marvin Mandel, who arranged the meeting, noted that Rosenbloom had been asked about a year ago to scrap his construction idea and continue playing in Memorial Stadium.
Mayor William Donald Schaefer, who attended the session along with Rosenbloom's son Steve, president of the Colts, said his chief concern was to keep the team within the city.
The elder Rosenbloom, asked about recent rumors, said "the Colts have never been for sale, and are not for sale now," and contended he had never said the team would be moved "outside our territorial rights."

football. He had great discipline and he created an atmosphere where discipline seemed the most natural, sensible thing in the world. He was tough, smart and fair. Above everything, fair."
Green Bay whipped the New York Giants in the NFL title game in 1961 and 1962 and then finished second in its division the next two years. Since then, Hanner has been an assistant coach at Green Bay under Lombardi, Phil Bengtson and Dan Devine.
Henry Jordan, who played alongside Hanner, says Hanner "coached the defensive line when he was playing."
"He could play the run better than he could rush the passer and a lot of times he would tell me 'get a good rush, I will cover for you,'" Jordan said. "No, we didn't have any play like that by design. It just worked that way. Dave made it, he was a coach on the field."
At Arkansas, Hanner was on a college team that included Fred Williams, Pat Summerall, Bob Griffin, Buddy Brown, Muscles Campbell, Lamar McHan and Lew Carpenter. All had professional football careers, but the Razorbacks were 5-5, 2-6 and 5-5 during Hanner's years.
His fondest memory from his college days is a 16-14 upset of Texas in 1961. The Longhorns were fourth in the nation at the time and had beaten Arkansas 12 straight.
"That was by far the most satisfying thing that happened to me in college," said Hanner, a two-time All-Southwest Conference choice. "We had jumped two touchdowns in front of Texas in Little Rock in 1949 and couldn't hold it. At Austin, when I was a junior, Texas had to drive late in the game to overtake us (19-14) and it seemed like they went right over me every play on that drive."
Hanner says Rick Casares of the Chicago Bears was the most punishing runner he faced in the NFL and picks Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts as the top quarterback.
"Any mistake — by the line, the linebackers, or the secondary — he'd pick it out and turn it into points," Hanner said. "We had a similar guy, Bart Starr, but Unitas was the best I saw on another team."
Incidentally, Starr will present Hanner Friday night.

California Coach Quits

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Ray Willsey has resigned as head football coach and acting athletic director at the University of California at Berkeley because, he says, he hasn't been named to the director's post.
Willsey, the Bears coach since 1964, has been acting director since last Sept. 15 when Paul Brechler retired, a week after the school was placed on indefinite probation by the NCAA.
"You'll hear all kinds of rumors," Willsey, 40, said Tuesday night when asked to comment on reports he had been fired or forced to resign.
"But it was just a case that I was bypassed on the athletic director's job and I felt under those circumstances it was best to remove myself from that (acting) position as well as head coach."
Willsey's teams had a 40-42-1 record during his eight years at Cal.
The resignation came amidst published reports that Cal track coach Dave Maggard, 32, was to be named athletic director and wanted Mike White, a young Stanford assistant coach, to take the football job.

You Learn All About Women When You Wed

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — As every husband comes to realize, no man knows a woman until he marries her.

Even then, as the slow years muller their way to eternity, he is never really certain he comprehends her nature fully. He is sure, however, of certain changes in her.

For example, when they first met she loved to go on long walks with him, and she'd half-trot at his side for miles without wearying. Today she couldn't even walk down the altar with him again without yelping for a taxi.

During their courtship, she ransacked the cookbooks to find new recipes to try on him, and he'd put on an apron and help do the dishes. But it has been years now since he has done anything in the kitchen, and he complains that her cuisine specialty is "four-day hash."

"You tell me who you want for president," she said in earlier years, "and I'll vote for him. I don't know anything about politics." What happened? Well, she thinks now that she knows everything about politics. Whoever her husband is for, she votes against—and insists on giving reasons.

He told her he didn't want any children for fear that having them might hurt her. She said that no, they must have two children—to be named Jack and Jill. She ended up having five children.

Marriage, she told him firmly before the ceremony, mustn't be the end of her career. She wanted to "be somebody" and make the most of her talents. Her talent, it turned out, was cheerleading. For the last 25 years she has been trying to pep talk him into working harder and making more money.

There was a time when she prided herself on washing her own tresses and making her own dresses. Now her annual bills for coiffure and clothes would pay for a paint job on the Statue of Liberty. But she still shows up for breakfast looking as if she had spent the night whirling around in a laundromat.

Another Killed in Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Four gunmen killed a Protestant bus driver on his doorstep Tuesday night, apparently because he was to give evidence in a court case against rioters who hijacked a bus in Belfast several weeks ago.

The death of Sidney Agnew, 40, brought the fatality toll to 213 in 29 months of communal violence in Northern Ireland. He was the seventh person to die this year.

Police said one of Agnew's three children answered the door when the gunmen rang the bell. They asked for Agnew, and when he came to the door they struck him and then shot him. The gunmen also wounded Agnew's 81-year-old mother-in-law in the foot, but she was not in serious condition.

The gunmen made their getaway in a car.

Censure Try Has Failed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Bella Abzug's resolution to have President Nixon censured for failing to end U.S. involvement in Vietnam brought the new session of Congress its first demonstration.

About 200 women supporters of the New York Democrat's proposal lightly applauded her speech and followed that with the raising of banners in the House gallery Tuesday.

House Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., warned that no demonstrations would be tolerated, and when the banners were hoisted, he ordered the gallery cleared.

Mrs. Abzug said Nixon had "proceeded to flout both the intent and the language" of a 1971 law declaring it a policy of the United States that a withdrawal date be set.

She was joined in support of her measure by Reps. William F. Ryan, D-N.Y., Parren J. Mitchell, D-Md., and Edward I. Koch, D-N.Y.

But Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the resolution has as much chance "as a celluloid dog chasing an asbestos cat through hell."

dry machine.

Wasn't she gay and lovely, the day they came back from their honeymoon and raced up three flights of stairs to their 1½-room love nest in the slums? Oh, well, don't all such days pass? Now she mopes because the cathedral living room in their 10-room house in the suburbs looks so gauche.

Their quarrels once were as brief and impromptu as summer storms, he recalls wistfully, and were followed immediately by loving and laughing. But now, he feels, "she starts jabbing at me on Friday night and is still at it on Monday morning." They are weekend horrors.

She was so hopeful and cheerful as they took the first steps on their long path together. Now she has decided that her future has become her past.

Dumbly her husband wonders what he did wrong to make things turn out this way.

Nothing at all. The girl of his dreams merely married him. Time, the chief villain of our lives, did the rest.

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ

Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It's been a month since the world's big countries agreed on new money values and the chief result has been a fall in world interest rates.

The fall has been general and it is important to Ito-san and Herr Muller as well as to Jack Perkins, whether Jack lives in Boston, England, or Boston, Mass. It means that it is now cheaper to borrow money to build new factories and expand business. New factories and more business mean more jobs and better wages for Ito and Muller and Perkins.

But there is a long lead time in factory building—it takes 18 months just to get the buildings finished—so the improved business climate has not yet shown up in lower unemployment rates. However, it shows up in stock exchange averages, both in the United States and overseas. Stock averages move faster than jobless rates when business improves.

The reason for lower interest rates is that investors have more confidence. Before the money agreement, if they loaned money, they didn't know what it would be worth when it was returned. To make sure they didn't lose, the fixed interest rates were high enough to cover the possibility of a loss. Now, with the new values fixed for a while, they are more certain of the value they will receive, so they can afford to collect lower interest.

The improvement in business prospects was not unexpected. What has been a surprise is that the dollars invested in foreign currencies have not returned to the United States. There was supposed to be about $10 billion in footloose money in Europe which could come home. This money had been invested in foreign currencies in the hope these would be revalued. Then the original owners of the dollars could buy them back for less than they sold them for in the first place.

But the money has not been coming back in any great flood. The European government bank officials held a meeting 10 days ago in Switzerland to find out why not. One theory was that the dollar owners had invested in 90-day notes, and these would not be paid off before February or March. When the notes are paid, the dollars will come back, the theory goes.

Another theory, reported in London's Financial Times, is that the speculators think some present exchange rates may be temporary. If other currencies are valued upward again, the holders could make still more profits. Already there is talk that the Japanese yen, because Japan is running such a big trade balance, is a candidate for another revaluation.

Don't Forget the 'Miscellaneous' Line

By RAY DE CRANE

Unfortunately, many taxpayers quickly pass over the "Miscellaneous" deduction category on their tax return.

This is a tragic oversight. There is a treasure house of deductions here. Consider them carefully. Here are some possibilities for you to consider:

Child care or invalid care payments.

Storm, fire, auto accident and theft losses.

Unreimbursed work expense, such as the purchase and cleaning of required uniforms and special work clothes not readily adaptable to regular street wear, purchase of rubber and asbestos gloves used in special occupations, safety equipment, tools and supplies used in certain craft occupations, deductions from your wages for damages to your employer's property.

Union dues.

Fees paid an employment agency for obtaining a job. Educational expenses, if the training was to maintain or improve skills required on the job or to meet your employer's specific job requirements or if required by law or regulation to keep your status. # Test Fields of Marijuana

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Test fields of marijuana will be grown in three states this year so the federal government can test a device to detect the plant, an official says.

Dr. Robert Miller of the U.S. Department of Agriculture told a news conference Monday that the test fields in Texas, Arizona and Florida "will be under lock and key, and constantly monitored."

Miller said aircraft using color or infrared film in high resolution cameras will be flown over the fields at various stages in the crop development and under several weather conditions so identifying characteristics can be established.

Quakes Felt in New Guinea

PORT MORESBY, New

Guinea (AP) — Two earthquakes of medium strength shook the northwest part of Australian New Guinea Tuesday night and this morning but no report of casualties was received here, authorities said.

The geophysical laboratory reported both quakes registered 6.5 on the Richter scale. A spokesman said their epicenter was in an uninhabited area about 80 miles west of the coastal town of Madang.

Canada to Protect Seals

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian government has sharply curtailed seal hunting this spring in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and cut the catch off Labrador nearly 40 per cent.

The action, announced Tuesday night, may be the first step toward a total moratorium on seal hunting off Canada's east coast, the target of animal lovers in many countries who contend that baby seals are cruelly clubbed to death.

In line with recommendations by an advisory committee appointed last year to study all aspects of the annual hunt, the government barred aircraft and ships from taking part in the hunt in the gulf and announced agreement with Norway to limit this year's catch off Labrador to 150,000 pelts, compared with a quota of 245,000 pelts last year.

Though only partial, the ban affects most of the gulf catch by commercial sealing fleets. Hunters will be able to operate from shore, when ice conditions permit, as will boats less than 65 feet long.

Fisheries Minister Jack Davis said the ban is only for this year, and long-term government policy has not been fixed.

Davis denied at a news conference that the action was taken in response to the public outcry. He said it was based on principles of conservation and good management, to keep the seal herds from getting so large that their demand for food endangers commercial fishing catches.

But Brian Davis, executive director of the International Fund for Animal Welfare, said he was satisfied the Canadian government had acted responsibly in reply to public opinion.

He said the international fund now plans to bring pressure on the Norwegians.

Conservative members of Parliament from the seal-hunting area assailed the Liberal government's action, accusing it of selling out to pressure groups under the guise of conservation.

Jack Marshall said the seal herd could "conceivably increase about 1½ million at present to more than 12 million by the year 2000," with each seal eating "up to one ton of food a year." He said they would be feeding on fish that "are valuable resources to our fishing industry."

AM&N Students in Meeting

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Students from Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff met Tuesday in closed session with the Executive Committee of the Pine Bluff Chamber of Commerce, but the committee refused to take a stand on the proposed merger of AM&N with the University of Arkansas.

The committee said the students, representatives of the Student Government Association, asked the chamber to support repeal of merger legislation.

Special Meet for Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Members of the state House Policy Study Committee met Tuesday a close session to discuss the possibility of a special session to obtain $12 million in federal funds for social services.

Several legislators expressed concern about the state committee's attempt to continue programs in which the level of federal funding might drop later, making the state responsible for picking up the tab on the program.

Members of the committee observed at a meeting Tuesday that this had occurred in some federal programs in the past.

Rep. W. F. Foster Sr. of Englewood said he did not anticipate a legislative fight with Bumpers, but that an unhurried look at the program might push the special session beyond the week to 10 days that a number of legislators expect it to last.

"We just want to take a close look, regardless of who is governor," Foster said.

Bumpers indicated Friday in announcing that he would convene a special session Feb. 7 that the primary item in the call would be legislation to obtain the additional funds under the Social Security Act to provide services for handicapped and needy juveniles and adults.

The services would cover a broad range of programs, including community care for mentally retarded children.

Rep. Joel Y. Ledbetter of Little Rock suggested that Bumpers add to each piece of legislation a five-year projection of the state funding commitment.

"We could end up with the state taking over 100 per cent of the funding," Ledbetter said.

"That's the thinking of a lot of people and that might be why we will be here (in special session) longer than a week," Foster said.

Dr. Roger Bost, director of the state Department of Social and Rehabilitative Services, said later in an interview that a drop in federal funding was always something to be concerned about, but that he did not know of any source of money "more stable or certain" than the Social Security Act.

Bost said the state could obtain the additional $12 million this year without spending one cent of state funds.

33 Arrested in L.R. on Drug Charges

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — At least 33 persons were arrested Tuesday and Tuesday night on a variety of drug charges by Little Rock police and agents of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

Police Chief Gale Weeks said the arrests culminated "several months" of investigation and that he expected at least 75 arrests.

Among those arrested were David A. Morton Jr., 55, owner of Morton Consultants, Inc., of Little Rock and Jaes. R. Best Jr. of Star City, a former investigator for the state Revenue Department.

Morton was charged with illegal distribution of cocaine, a federal offense. Weeks said officers confiscated a large amount of drugs and other items from Morton's office.

Best, Guy Preston Biggs, 21, and Diane Penelope Hays, 23, both of Little Rock, were also charged with federal offenses. Best was taken to Pine Bluff for arraignment after his arrest late Tuesday night at Star City. He was charged with aiding and abetting in a conspiracy to sell cocaine.

Biggs, who was arrested Tuesday afternoon on a charge of illegal sale of cocaine, was arraigned before federal Magistrate Robert Faulkner. His bond was set at $1,500.

Miss Hays bond on a charge of selling cocaine was set at $2,000 by Faulkner.

Weeks said many of those arrested were taken into custody at their homes. Some came to police headquarters and surrendered after hearing about other arrests.

Weeks said Pros. Atty. Jim Guy Tucker came to police headquarters at his request Tuesday and prepared the affidavits for the arrest warrants and about eight or nine search warrants.

A report on all drugs seized was unavailable, but Weeks said a large quantity had been confiscated. He said one arrest netted more than 100 pounds of marijuana prepared for resale.

Weeks said the charges involved marijuana, morphine, LSD, opium, hashish, barbiturates, amphetamines, cocaine, heroin and codeine.

Rochelle Hudson Dead at 55

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP) — Rochelle Hudson, a brunette film star of the 1930s and '40s who later costarred in the television series "That's My Boy," is dead at 55.

The Riverside County sheriff's office said she may have suffered a heart attack and announced that an autopsy would be performed. She was found dead Monday at her Palm Desert Country Club home.

Miss Hudson costarred with Will Rogers, Fredric March and other leading men of the '30s and '40s. The 75 pictures she made included "Imitation of Life," "Rebel Without a Cause," "Are These Our Children?" and "Les Miserables."

Her last film appearance was in 1963 as the sister-in-law of Joan Crawford in "Strait Jack."

Born in Oklahoma City, she came to Hollywood with her parents in 1927 and was signed by 20th Century-Fox studios.

Miss Hudson starred with Eddie Mayehoff in the 1950s television series "That's My Boy," after saying she could only be "an ingenue for so long."

Honor Guard for Denmark King

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Denmark's army, navy and air force have selected the men to be honor guards at King Frederik IX's lying-in-state and funeral, and this order was issued: Long hair must be kept out of sight.

The late monarch was supreme commander of Denmark's armed forces and one known to frown at such military permissiveness as long hair and big beards, especially in the navy, to which the sailor king felt particularly attached.

King Frederik will lie in state at parliament's church for five days beginning Wednesday.

Judge Gets Many Calls

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Robert R. Merhige Jr. says his controversial order for an integrated merger of Richmond-area public schools has prompted so many telephone threats that his wife and young son never leave home without a federal marshal to protect them.

"It doesn't bother me when it's directed at me ... I am too old now to be bothered," Merhige, 52, said in a nationally televised CBS interview Tuesday night.

"But I resent them upsetting my wife and child ... My little boy, I think, suffers more than anybody. He doesn't go off the property without a marshal, nor does Mrs. Merhige."

"I want you to understand we are not afraid. I only hope they (the callers) would understand, whoever they are, that it's not going to change one single thing whether it's me or any other judge."

Merhige triggered protests in suburban Henrico and Chesterfield counties when he ruled that their predominantly white schools must be consolidated with the predominantly black schools of Richmond next fall.

He was expected to rule today on a request by the counties and the state Board of Education for a stay of his order.

Press Blocking Suit Filed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of newspaper reporters, two communications corporations and several prison inmates have filed suit against Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and the director of the federal Bureau of Prisons to prevent the bureau from blocking press interviews with prisoners, the American Civil Liberties Union announced today.

The plaintiffs include Tom Wicker of The New York Times, Don Singleton of The New York Daily News, Betty Medsger of The Washington Post, Nat Hentoff and Jack Newfield of The Village Voice, Playboy Enterprises Inc. of Delaware and The Amsterdam News Inc. of New York.

The ACLU said the suit was filed in the U.S. District Court in Washington as a class action on behalf of all news media seeking to interview federal prisoners and all prisoners who wish to be interviewed. It seeks a permanent injunction "against the bureau's policy of barring the press from interviewing federal prisoners," the ACLU said.

The suit argues the bureau's ban violates freedom of the press and the inmates' right to free expression.

AWOL GI May Have Fled Country

By H.F. WOLLENBERG Associated Press Writer CHICAGO (AP) — Ronald Kaufman, an AWOL Army private who authorities say may have fled the country, has been indicted on 16 counts connected with the placing of bombs in three Chicago banks.

The indictment returned Tuesday by a federal grand jury charged that on or about July 16, 1971, Kaufman carried explosive devices into the banks and put them in safety deposit boxes.

It also charged that Kaufman used the U.S. mails to send letters to news media representatives detailing what the devices were and where they could be found. The letters were mailed on Jan. 5 and 6.

The FBI has said fingerprints on the letters showed that Kaufman had handled them.

U.S. Atty. James R. Thompson, who announced the indictment in Chicago, said the FBI has completed investigations into similar bombs found at three banks in New York and three in San Francisco. No indictments have been returned in these cases.

The Chicago indictment listed four aliases for Kaufman—Christopher Charles Mohr, Christopher Curtis Mohr, James Edward Jensen and Charles E. Owens.

The FBI said Kaufman, 33, enlisted in the Army last Aug. 10 under the Jensen name. He was scheduled to be shipped overseas with his unit Jan. 9 but never showed up.

A warrant is out for his arrest.

Conviction on all 16 counts could result in sentences totaling 120 years in prison.

AP-Guild Sign 2-Year Pact

NEW YORK (AP) — The Associated Press and the Wire Service Guild agreed Tuesday night on a two-year contract that will bring the top minimum for newsmen and photographers to $300 on Oct. 21, 1973.

The agreement was for the same amount of money as in The Associated Press' wage package presented Dec. 31 and subsequently rejected by the Guild membership.

The revised agreement takes top newsmen to $300 in the life of the contract by spreading the offer over three steps and achieving the higher minimum in October of 1973.

The new proposal, like the one submitted Jan. 31, maintains merit for the top news category for all employees making $260 weekly or above.

The result of the revised agreement was to give employees a higher base pay to begin late in the contract and a higher base from which 1974 contract negotiations would begin.

The last AP offer was to increase top newsmen from $252 to $270 weekly in the first year of the proposal and going to $288 in the second. By lowering the start of the second year to $285, the negotiating committees agreed on reaching a higher top minimum spreading the same number of dollars.

Other classifications were given a similar "spread-out" of the company's Dec. 31 offer.

The Guild promised a rapid ratification vote with full support of the negotiating committee.

Campaign Spending Bill About Ready Rhodesia Arrests Spur Foes

By CARL C. CRAFT Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is ready to send President Nixon a federal-election-reform bill designed to seal reporting loopholes, curb campaign costs and reflect modern political realities.

It represents the most comprehensive change of campaign-practices law in a half-century. There is a lingering controversy over its restrictions involving media advertising rates and radio-TV spending limits.

As the House was getting set to finish congressional action today on the Senate-approved compromise, backers acknowledged it may lack perfection.

But, said reform-leading Reps. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., and John B. Anderson, R-Ill., "we recognize it is a vast improvement over the loophole-ridden Corrupt Practices Act of 1925 which it replaces."

"This new act places realistic and enforceable limits on campaign spending ..."

"Secondly, this new act establishes full and timely disclosure requirements which provide to the American people the right to know who finances the campaigns of the candidates they must choose among."

Under the bill's formula, a presidential candidate's radio-TV ad budget would be restricted to $8.4 million this fall. This would involve an all-media spending ceiling of 10 cents per potential voter, with no more than 6 cents of each dime going for broadcast ads.

Each primary, general, special or runoff election would have a separate expenditure limit. Presidential primaries would have state-by-state limits on a candidate's spending, computed on the state's voting-age population. If signed by Nixon, the legislation would be effective in 60 days—thus missing such early primaries as New Hampshire and Florida.

Broadcast stations selling air time to federal candidates would be required to charge the lowest unit rate during 45 days before a primary and 60 days before a general election, instead of the actual rate charged for any comparable use.

The compromise eliminated the Senate's equal-time-repeal provision that would have cleared the way for radio-TV debates by major presidential contenders this year.

The opossum is no larger than a honey bee at birth.

By RODNEY PINDER Associated Press Writer LONDON (AP) — The Rhodesian government's arrest of a former prime minister and his daughter has spurred opponents of the pending agreement recognizing Rhodesian independence.

Labor party leader Harold Wilson said the detention Tuesday of Garfield Todd and his daughter Judith called into question the whole basis of conditions under which a British commission is canvassing the reaction of black and white Rhodesians to the agreement which the British government and Rhodesia's white minority regime reached last November.

Wilson said his party wants to be satisfied that the commission headed by Lord Pearce can carry out its work properly. He demanded a statement in Parliament today from the Conservative government of Prime Minister Edward Heath.

Todd, 63, was prime minister of what was then the British colony of Southern Rhodesia in the late 1950s. He and his 28-year-old daughter are active opponents of Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith's white supremacist policies and have spoken frequently abroad on behalf of the black nationalists.

The Smith government restricted Todd to his farm near Salisbury for a year in 1965-66.

Smith's government gave no explanation for the detention orders served Tuesday on the pair. But Todd was the main speaker at a meeting last week sponsored by the African National Council, a new black nationalist group which opposes the British-Rhodesian agreement and which the Rhodesian government says is responsible for black rioting that has raged all week in African sections of Gwelo, an industrial center 200 miles southwest of Salisbury.

Wilson, Heath and their top aides met Tuesday night to discuss the Rhodesian action.

The agreement between the British and Rhodesian governments provided that normal political activity was to be allowed in Rhodesia while the Pearce Commission determined public reaction to the agreement.

Arthur Bottomley, the Laborite Commonwealth secretary when Smith declared Rhodesia independent in November 1965, demanded that the Pearce Commission be pulled out.

"This is the only way things can be brought to a head," he declared. "The commission cannot do its work under those circumstances ... nothing can be done to get the Rhodesia matter settled short of Britain assuming full responsibility and taking the country over."

The November agreement provides for recognition of Rhodesian independence, progressive enlargement of black representation in the Rhodesian Parliament and possibly for black rule some day in the far distant future. Although the pact stipulates the agreement will not go into effect unless the British determine it is acceptable to most Rhodesians, spokesmen for Heath's government have said frankly it is the best that can be obtained from Smith.

Children Don't Want Change

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Eight out of every 10 pupils surveyed at suburban Oak Hills High School have voted not to change the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

The survey—by a faculty-student committee found that about the same percentage of pupils said they were dissatisfied with daily recitation of the pledge over the school's address system.

Some voted for weekly recitation on the public address system, others voted that the pledge be recited every morning in individual classrooms, and another group voted for weekly recitation accompanied by a short program.

Skin Sags with Age

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Why do some women have sagging muscles and wrinkles around their neck and upper underarms? I've noticed a big age difference in many younger (40- to 50-year-old) women having wrinkles compared to those 50 to 60 years of age. Why?

I'm worried about my future. What can one do to avoid or lessen the wrinkles? Does doing strenuous housework keep arms firm? Exercise?

Dear Reader—The most important factor is the skin itself. The skin loses its normal elasticity and, in a sense, is overstretched. Unfortunately the loss of elasticity is often a familial characteristic. If your mother tended to have this problem you are definitely more likely to have it, too.

Mistreating the skin is also a big factor. Too much sun and wind actually damages the skin and speeds up its loss of elasticity. That summer tan can also age the skin. Obesity stretches the skin and if weight is subsequently lost, the previous normal contraction of the skin may not return.

Exercising isn't really much good for this problem. It helps a little but the amount of increase in muscle size you would need to fill an overstretched skin is beyond any reasonable expectation from an exercise program.

There are some muscles under the skin in the neck that help if their tone is maintained but usually exercise does little for these either. Your family might appreciate all that strenuous housework, but it won't help or harm your skin.

Because there is no satisfactory way to eliminate the sagging skin around the neck some women and some men have cosmetic surgery done to remove the excess folds. A common method is to pull up the skin around the neck and then remove the excess skin from an incision over the back of the neck. A small scar may remain after the procedure.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have an excess amount of skin under my chin. Is there any exercise or something else that can cure this unwanted problem? I have tried several exercises, but I do not seem to get any results.

Dear Reader—Exercise won't help much. The only thing that will really help is cosmetic surgery. You could have an incision just under the chin, the excess fat and skin removed. The fine-line scar just under the jaw is hardly noticeable.

Opening lead—♠ 10

By Oswald & James Jacoby

There is a lot of counting in today's hand. South counts 22 points and opens two no-trump. North counts 14 more and raises to six.

West opens the 10 of clubs. South looks at dummy and counts 11 top tricks. He can score a 12th if either clubs or hearts break 3-3. If neither of those suits behaves nicely South still has a two-way finesse for the queen of diamonds.

All in all it is the sort of gilt-edge slam your banker would lend you money on.

A studious South would cash three top cards in every suit but diamonds while watching the fall of cards from the East and West hands. He would note that West showed out after two leads of each major suit and had discarded two diamonds while East would have chucked a spade on the third club lead.

This would tell him that West had been dealt exactly two spades, two hearts, four clubs and five diamonds. The count of the East hand would show that it had been dealt just two diamonds.

Therefore, the odds would be 5-2 that West would hold the diamond queen and a mere counter would finesse against West.

A person who knows how to count to fullest advantage would know that West's last four cards were three diamonds and one club. He would have planned his play to win the ninth trick in his own hand and would simply throw West in with that club. West would be forced to lead a diamond and it would not matter who held the queen.

CHARD SAYS

The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	3 N.T.	Pass	4 N.T.
Pass	5 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠AKQJ1065 ♥A32 ♣K5 ♣2

What do you do now?
A—Bid six spades. Your partner is clearly showing one ace and now you want to gamble on a slam. At worst, it should depend on a finesse.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of rebidding three no-trump, your partner has continued to four clubs over your three spades. What do you do now?

Foul Play Ruled Out in Death

MARKED TREE, Ark. (AP)—Coroner Homer Bata of Poinsett County has tentatively ruled out foul play in the death of a Marked Tree woman whose frozen body was found in a drainage ditch near Marked Tree Saturday.

Bata said preliminary autopsy reports show that Mrs. Mary Francis White, 47, died of exposure.

Mrs. White was last seen Jan. 9 near where her body was discovered.
